

MARRIOTT Marine Surveyors

INTRODUCTION

Marriott & Co is an established company which has been providing a prompt, reliable and cost effective marine surveying and consultancy service for over 5 years. The company has a wide experience in providing support and expert advice in all aspects of marine operations, including technical, safety and environmental issues.

Although this service has been mainly focused on the commercial part of the industry, the demand on private owners and yacht brokers to comply with the increasing amount of regulations, safety codes and insurance requirements has prompted the company to develop a similar high quality service for all.

With a team of Master Mariners and Chief Engineers, all with command and management experience, the company has carried out hundreds of ship vetting and pre purchase inspections on behalf of charterers, owners, operators and P and I clubs.

Further training and experience in yacht and small boat practices now gives Marriott & Co the opportunity to provide a competitive service to the private and recreational sector of the marine industry.

POLICY

The company is committed to providing a complete survey service to the highest levels of integrity, confidentiality and technical expertise to both the private and corporate client alike. In keeping with the professional principles of independent survey, findings are reported immediately and accurately, ensuring that clients are aware of all developments.

Through our affiliations to international organisations and networks, the company keeps abreast of statutory regulations, new practices and training requirements in the industry.

With the emphasis on experience, training and qualification, all assignments are handled with traditional skills and expertise, supported by the latest state of the art equipment and services, for accurate and efficient reporting.

The company office is equipped with modern equipment for electronic filing, report production and communication systems, together with efficient staff to serve your every survey need.

SERVICES

Survey equipment includes ultrasound equipment (for thickness and leak detection measurement), electrical moisture content meters, gas analysers, digital cameras and camcorders.

Our surveyors are available by appointment to offer a comprehensive service whatever and wherever it is needed.

We offer services and consultancy to:

Owners
Brokers
Marina's
Insurers

Potential purchasers

For - comprehensive pre-purchase surveys

- surveys for insurance purposes
- Refit and repair supervision
- Boat Safety Scheme Examinations
